Cash reporting

If you are carrying, on your person or in your baggage, NZ$10,000 or more in cash, or foreign equivalent, you must report this to a Customs officer when you are completing passport formalities on departure from New Zealand.

Cash means physical currency, bearer negotiable instruments (BNI), or both. BNI means any of – bills of exchange, cheques, promissory notes, bearer bonds, traveller's cheques, money orders, postal orders, or similar orders, or any other instrument prescribed by regulations under the Anti-Money Laundering and Countering Financing of Terrorism Act 2009.

If anyone you are responsible for, who is travelling with you, has cash to that value, you must report this to the Customs officer also.

It is an offence to fail to report as instructed here.
