

COPY POINTERS for New Zealand Traveller Declaration (NZTD) Partner Toolkit:

Do you have passengers flying to New Zealand? They'll need to do this.

(The following text can be included in any early communications you send to passengers)

Everyone travelling to New Zealand needs to complete a New Zealand Traveller Declaration, whether you're a Kiwi returning home, a tourist, a student, travelling for business, or you're coming back from a holiday. Go to travellerdeclaration.govt.nz for more info and find out what you need to do.

Are your passengers part-way through organising their travel to New Zealand? They may need a reminder to complete their traveller declaration.

(The following text can be included in any follow-up communications you send to passengers, after your first email)

You'll need to complete a New Zealand Traveller Declaration and you can start your online declaration up to 28 days before you fly. Go to travellerdeclaration.govt.nz for more info and find out what you need to do.

A last reminder to passengers to complete their traveller declaration before they fly.

(The following text can be included in the last communication you send to passengers before their departure to New Zealand)

Have you done your New Zealand Traveller Declaration? You'll need to complete it before you fly to New Zealand. Go to travellerdeclaration.govt.nz for more info and find out what you need to do.