Our areas of shared interest are

Connecting New Zealand

Maintain the air and maritime pathway, including responding to volume changes

Readiness for the next event

Support the border being ready for the next significant event or health response

Commitments to the Pacific

Facilitate movement of people, goods and craft, including health protection, with Pacific nations

Digital solutions

Use technology to reduce risks to New Zealand and improve customer experience of border activity

Flow and use of data

Data can be used appropriately and legally to manage risks and opportunities, and improve the customer experience

Integrated insights and surveillance

Enhance the multi-agency approach to manage and understand information and risk

Mitigate illicit activity

Mitigate the risk of transnational organised crime at air and maritime ports, including working with the National Security Board

Financial sustainability for the border sector

Whole-of-border view of fees and levies to maintain fit for purpose border services and infrastructure

Pragmatic alignment of investment

Coordinate planning and investment to maximise value and use of resources for shared or similar activity

Effective governance

Maintain governance and assurance of the border system

Supporting the economy

Support the flow of goods by considering opportunities or removing barriers to the supply chain

Infrastructure

Influence the conditions for effective border processing, and support a positive customer experience, and maintain the health, safety and wellbeing of the border workforce

Operating frameworks

Legislation, regulations, agreements, and industry forums are used to support efficient and effective border processing

Our principles

- One view of the border through system leadership
- Partnership as functions are connected across the border system
- Integrated and coherent investment, delivery and customer experience
- Future focused through the use of technology as it develops
- Resources are targeted to activity of greatest value to the border system
- Risks are managed as early as practicable and offshore where possible
